ABOUT ESMAE

This talented singer/songwriter wrote her first song aged 16 and has continued to write lyrics and melodies ever since. In 2019 Esmæe posted a collection of original songs onto Soundcloud where they quickly racked up over 500,000 streams and plays on the BBC. Shortly after she launched a YouTube channel uploading weekly cover songs which led to another 500,000 views and a substantial online following, supported by a number of impromptu live appearances. It was then that Esmæe decided to stop sitting on the songs she'd been writing privately, and took them into the studio to record. The result is a 5-track EP titled 'Do Better', with her lead single 'oughta know' due to hit all major platforms on the 19th of March!

With distinct pop sensibilities and a host of diverse life experiences to channel into her lyrics, Esmae draws upon her love of old-school R&B and new-school dance for her music to produce a very unique sound. Or in Esmae's own words:

"I really believe my extensive life experiences with people, in places, and at events add a definite substance and influence to my lyrics and I know that now I'm right where I need to be and I'm excited to see what the future holds."

Now that Esmae has finally turned her full attention to music like her we can't wait to see what the future holds.

She is different, her sound is something new. A seamless fusion of vocal capacity and raw emotion have made a mark on those who relish musical authenticity. The London Daily Post recently called Esmee “The UK’s biggest new rising star”. Currently Esmee is preparing for the release of her new EP - her fans from all over the world are eager to hear her new material, the lead single “Oughta Know” will be released in early 2021 for global audiences to enjoy.
